Your Fashionable Life

When putting your look together this fall, add a fabulous flourish with assertive yet informal accessories. Our classy Foil Bracelet, with dense gold links and a most interesting wrinkled texture, looks as ideal worn over a cozy turtleneck as it does on bare skin. Our protean nature extends to the Jacaranda Pod Pendant, which can hang from a simple long chain or clip to our Hemp Necklace – whose length can be modified to meet your mood. Blackened steel jewelry with organic origins allows you to assert your personal style with confidence.

POD CAST

The latest addition to our object trove is the woody Jacaranda Pod, an object of the most unusual structure, owing to its' oppositely paired, compound leaves. Cast in rich gold and matte blackened steel, with a hint of diamond sparkle and a fluid assembly, this collection captures the essence of organic couture.

Eureka!

When Denise Long, our business manager, bought her husband a metal detector, little did she know she would be called upon to accompany him on his fortune seeking adventures. Her indifference turned to elation, however, when he unearthed this 24 Karat gold nugget weighing over two ounces! Swan like in shape, it retains the natural patina that makes it a true collector's item. We can already imagine it as a gorgeous pendant, set against blackened steel, with perhaps a sprinkle of diamonds... but we'll wait for a customer with vision to assert their own auriferous vision before finalizing the design. Intrigued? Get a first hand look at this amazing natural find at our New York show later this month, and read the full details of the miner's adventure at sarahgraham.com.
